

Parallel Reigns of Sennacherib/Nabopolassar & Ramses III

Assyria	Babylon	Chart 31
Death of Sargon and succession of Sennacherib (Nabopolassar)	627 BC Marduk-zakir-shumi II claims throne in Babylon 625 BC Merodach-Baladin makes second attempt for throne
	626 BC Nabopolassar defeats Merodach-Baladin and becomes king in Babylon
1st seige of Jerusalem/Thebes by Sennacherib Ramses III (Hezekiah) pays tribute Ramses III survives assassination attempt	625 BC
Ramses III revives Passover Celebration Ramses III entertains envoys of Merodach-Baladin	624 BC
Assur-nadin-shumi, Eldest Son of Sennacherib named Crown Prince in Babylon	622 BC
Assur-nadin-shumi defeats Shuzubu
Assur-nadin-shumi captured by Elamites	617 BC
Nergal-ushezib on the throne of Babylon
Mushuezib-Marduk seizes throne of Babylon	616 BC Psamtik pursues army of Nabopolassar along the Euphrates with help from an Assyrian ally
Mushuezib-Marduk and Sennacherib meet in battle at Halule on the Tigris	615 BC
Sennacherib returns with army to Babylon	614 BC Cyax-Ares captures Asshur, accepts treaty with Nabopolassar
Sennacherib destroys Babylon Names Esar-haddon Crown Prince in Babylon	613 BC
	612 BC Nabopolassar and Cyax-Ares capture Nimrud and Ninevah Destruction of Ninevah Death or retreat of Sin-shar-ukin
	611 BC Exile of Assur-uballit II from Ninevah to Harran
Taharqa named successor of Shebitku
	610 BC Nabopolassar and Nebuchadrezzar capture Harran Assur-uballit withdraws
2nd seige of Jerusalem/Thebes by Sennacherib Sennacherib defeated by Taharqa and withdraws	609 BC
	608 BC
	607 BC
Esar-haddon named successor in Assyria Civil war breaks out	606 BC
	Necho kills Psusennes (Josiah) at Megiddo and opposes Nebuchadrezzar at Carchemesh
Sennacherib murdered by Nabu-sharru-user (Sharezer) and Urdi-mulissi/Urdamane (Adrammelech)	605 BC Death of Nabopolassar

Note: Subtract 157 years from the Standard Chronology dates (below) to derive actual dates.